Indian-origin astronaut Sunita Williams flies to space for a third time

Indian-origin astronaut Sunita Williams flew to space for the third time on Wednesday along with a colleague, scripting history as the first members aboard Boeing's Starliner spacecraft to the International Space Station. Boeing's Crew Flight Test mission carrying Williams, and Butch Wilmore lifted off from Cape Canaveral Space Force Station in Florida after multiple delays. Williams, 58, is the pilot for the flight test while Wilmore, 61, is the commander of the mission. Williams also made history as the first woman to embark on such a mission. And it won't be her first entry in the history books. In 2012, during a prior trip to the International Space Station, Williams became the first person to finish a triathlon in space, during which she simulated swimming using a weight-lifting machine and ran on a treadmill while strapped in by a harness so she wouldn't float away.

That came after she ran the Boston Marathon from the space station in 2007.

Stock Market Crash: Nifty to Drop Below 20,000? Post-Election Stocks to Watch

The 2024 Lok Sabha election results have caused a stir in the stock market, as the BJP-led NDA secured a reduced majority. Emkay Global noted that despite BJP falling short of a majority, Prime Minister Narendra Modi will return to office, albeit under changed circumstances. In the short term, the brokerage expects a stock market downturn, with PSUs and capital goods sectors being most vulnerable, while consumption and value retailers could see strong returns. They predict no major shifts in economic direction, though reforms in factor markets and privatization may stall. Emkay also sees higher risk perceptions leading to market derating and suggests switching investments from PSUs and capital goods to FMCG and buying Indian equities if the Nifty drops below 20,000. There's a possibility that opposition parties could form a government if BJP allies switch sides. Despite these political shifts, the core economic focus on manufacturing and job creation is likely to remain steady.
