

DPPG Weekly

NAVIGATING MANAGEMENT REALMS > BUZZ

NOVEMBER 11, 2024

71st Edition

Donald Trump set to become 47th President of the U.S.

Trump claims victory over Harris.

Donald Trump claimed victory and pledged to “heal” the country as results put him on the verge of beating Kamala Harris in a stunning White House comeback. Mr. Trump took to the stage at his campaign headquarters in Florida along with his wife Melania and severally of his children. “We are going to help our country heal,” the Republican former President said. Mr. Trump, who won Wisconsin, cleared the 270 electoral votes needed to clinch the Presidency. The former President also won the swing States of Pennsylvania and Georgia.

Highlights

Amazon launches Creator Central

India Australia Strategic partnership

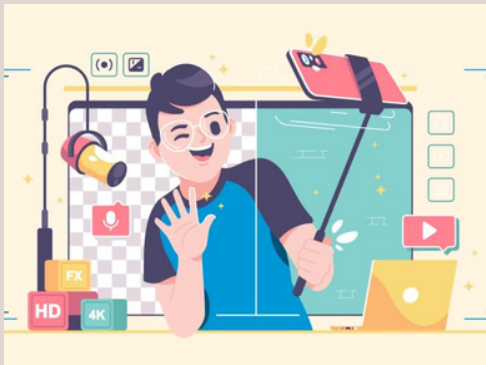

Vineeta Singh

By The Hindu
To know more Scan or Click QR

Amazon India Launches 'Creator Central' For Content Creators

Amazon India Launches 'Creator Central' For Content Creators

Amazon India has launched Creator Central, a new platform aimed at enhancing the content creation process for over 50,000 creators in its influencer program. This feature allows creators to produce, upload, and schedule videos, photos, and product lists directly from the Amazon app, while also tracking performance metrics and earnings in real time. This initiative complements Amazon's broader support for creators, including Amazon live and enhanced commission rates for influencers.

By Inc42
To know more Scan or Click QR

State can't seize all private property for common good: Supreme Court

A landmark decision, the Supreme Court ruled on Tuesday that government cannot take control of all private properties for distribution to the public. This 7-2 majority ruling clarifies that while states can acquire private land in specific situations, they lack the constitutional authority to seize all resources for the 'common good.'

The nine-judge bench, led by Chief Justice DY Chandrachud, overturned previous rulings, including one by justice Krishna Iyer, which suggested that Article 39(b) of the Constitution granted states sweeping powers to acquire private resources.

The crux of the case revolved around whether private properties fall under the definition of "material resources of the community" as stated in Article 39(b). This article mandates that the state should ensure "that the ownership and control of the material resources of the community are so distributed as best to subserve the common good".

The majority verdict, however, clarified that this article does not grant states unlimited power to seize private property. Justice BV Nagarathna presented a partially dissenting opinion, while Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia disagreed with the majority ruling entirely.

By Times of India
To know more Scan or Click QR

Jet Airways liquidation: Story of rise and fall of what used to be India's largest, best airline

As Jet Airways emerged as the major challenger to government-owned carriers Indian Airlines and Air India, Goyal purportedly made efforts—using his clout and network in the government and among politicians—to ensure that his airline charted a course of rapid growth

The writing had been on the wall for Jet Airways, which ceased operations five years ago. On Thursday, the Supreme Court officially put to rest the airline—at its peak India's largest and arguably best carrier, and along with it any residual hope of its revival.

By The Indian Express
To know more Scan or Click QR

Apple to start manufacturing iPhone 17 early in India, shift key production away from China

Apple to start manufacturing iPhone 17 early in India, shift key production away from China.

Apple is beginning early manufacturing of the iPhone 17 in India, a shift from its traditional practice of handling this phase in China. This move, revealed by analyst Ming-Chi Kuo, marks the start of the "New Production Introduction" (NPI) process for the standard iPhone 17 model, while higher-end variants like the Pro and Pro Max will still undergo NPI in China. This initiative is part of Apple's broader strategy to diversify its supply chain and reduce dependence on China, with plans to shift around 25% of iPhone production to India.

India has emerged as a significant manufacturing base for Apple, evidenced by the export of approximately $6 billion worth of iPhones from the country in the past six months. The early NPI efforts for the iPhone 17 indicate Apple's meticulous preparation for a global launch, ensuring that all manufacturing processes are optimized.

India, Australia review comprehensive strategic partnership at foreign ministers' meet

India and Australia reviewed their comprehensive strategic partnership on Tuesday as external affairs minister S Jaishankar and his Australian counterpart Penny Wong explored ways to deepen cooperation in key areas such as defence, security and trade.

Jaishankar and Wong participated in the Foreign Ministers' Framework Dialogue in Canberra a day after India opened its fourth consulate in the Australian city of Brisbane, marking the rapid development of bilateral ties alongside burgeoning collaboration between the two countries within the Quad framework. The bilateral comprehensive strategic partnership is growing steadily and this is reflected in "stronger political ties, robust defence & security cooperation, expanded trade, greater mobility and deeper educational linkages", Jaishankar said on X after the meeting.

The two sides also discussed their respective neighbourhoods, the Indo-Pacific, the conflicts in West Asia and Ukraine and the global strategic scenario, he said.

Telangana cops give school in Maoist-hit belt a makeover

Telangana cops give school in Maoist-hit tribal belt a makeover

In Boorugupadu village, 45 ST-Koya students now attend a newly renovated school, thanks to local police's efforts. Previously, poor conditions deterred attendance. The initiative, led by teacher Savaralam Veeraswamy and police officer A Raju Varma, aims to improve education in Maoist-affected areas, emphasizing better living conditions.

Previously, the dilapidated shed housing the Mandal Parishad Primary School deterred attendance, especially during rainy weather.

The cops took up the complete expenses for constructing a new spacious classroom and an office room, inaugurated last week. This initiative is part of broader efforts to improve living conditions in Maoist-affected areas, said district SP B Rohit Raju, emphasizing that access to education gives children an opportunity to choose the right path in life.

By Firstpost
To know more Scan or Click QR

By Hindustan Times
To know more Scan or Click QR

By The Times of India
To know more Scan or Click QR

VINEETA SINGH

Sugar Cosmetics Founder

Vineeta Singh, founder and CEO of Sugar Cosmetics, has been a beacon of inspiration, particularly for aspiring entrepreneurs, especially women, across India and beyond. Despite receiving a lucrative offer in investment banking, Vineeta's entrepreneurial spirit yearned for greater challenges. Her initial venture, Quetzal, focusing on background checks, failed to take off. Undeterred, she co-founded Fab-Bag, a beauty subscription service, which enjoyed moderate success but ultimately did not align with her true calling. These initial setbacks, however, served as invaluable lessons, enriching her understanding of the market and her own capabilities.

In 2015, armed with experience and a definitive vision, Vineeta, alongside husband Kaushik Mukherjee, launched SUGAR Cosmetics. Recognizing a gap in the Indian beauty market for products catering to diverse skin tones and preferences, SUGAR offered vibrant, high-quality cosmetics at affordable prices.

Beyond offering vibrant lip colors and bold kajals, SUGAR's success reflects Vineeta's commitment to fostering a company culture that prioritizes women's empowerment, with 75% of its workforce being female. She is also a vocal advocate for diversity and inclusion within the beauty industry. Under her leadership, SUGAR has consistently innovated, keeping abreast of evolving trends and consumer preferences.

Vineeta's journey took an exciting turn with her role as an investor and judge on the Indian reality show Shark Tank India. Her insightful feedback, empathetic approach, and readiness to champion innovative ideas resonated with audiences nationwide. She emerged as a role model for budding entrepreneurs, particularly women, showcasing that ambition and perseverance can lead to remarkable success.

ENTERPRISE VALUE

The market value of a business, calculated by market capitalisation times current share price, minus cash, plus debt.

Head Of The Department

Dr. Nilam Panchal

Faculty In-charge

Dr. Sonali Ramchandani

Team Members

Batch 2023-2025

1. Urmi Ruparelia
2. Rohit Limbad
3. Aayushi Patel
4. Ravindra Makwana
5. Pooja Soni

Batch 2024-2026

1. Arup Gain
2. Anushka Arapada
3. Simran Bazaz
4. Dhruvan Shah
5. Aakanksha Mehta
6. Kashish Dagiya
7. Hetul Parmar
8. Sanket Jaiswal